

Annotation

Production practice was held at TOV "Metseyl Ukraine ". The plant, with its Special Design Bureau, which is part of its structure, is a single design and technological and production complex and has a high level of equipment for the production of electromechanical instruments and consumer equipment.

During the practice, the literature on from different types of metals and breaking machines, was elaborated the principle of operation and areas of using. A review of the literature on methods of testing different metals and threads on a bursting machine is carried out.