

SUMMARY

This diploma project contains 58 sheets, 23 illustrations, 2 tables, 20 list of references.

Purpose of the project: to study the methods of sampling water for analysis of impurities in it and the device for its implementation and devices that control the pollution of the water environment.

Explanatory note includes:

- Design and construction section where budo considers the methodology for calculating the main indicators of water quality and an overview of the design object's analogues;
- Technological section;
- Conclusions and list of literature.